Exploring Being My Own Boss Workshops

Exploring Being My Own Boss Workshops give people a taste of self-employment.

There are 1,000 places available nationally each year, delivered by a network of Workshop providers.

What will I get out of participating in a workshop?

You may benefit from these workshops if you:

- want to become your own boss, but don't know where to start
- have a business idea.

Workshops will give you:

- a better understanding of what self-employment involves
- access to practical information you need to start your own business
- an opportunity to discuss your ideas or interests with other people.

How are workshops delivered?

Workshops are delivered by a network of workshop providers around Australia. They cover 10 topics that take place over 50 hours during a two to four-week period.

Exploring Being My Own Boss Workshops are currently being delivered both online and face-to-face.

Am I eligible to join a workshop?

To participate in a workshop, you must:

- be available to participate in the full workshop program
- have the right to work in Australia
- not be studying or working for more than 25 hours per week

Early access for veterans

Serving members of the Australian Defence Force (ADF) with a transition date, and eligible family members of serving ADF personnel may participate in a workshop regardless of how many hours they are working or studying.

Where can I get more support?

New Business Assistance with NEIS helps people to turn their viable business ideas into successful businesses. NEIS Participants get help to develop a business plan and access business mentoring. More information about NEIS is available at dese.gov.au/neis.

You do not need to participate in a workshop to be eligible for NEIS.
