

Heading: Build your future in clean energy or housing construction with up to $10,000 in support.

- Long description: Are you ready to kick-start a career in clean energy or housing construction? The Australian Government's Key Apprenticeship Program (KAP) is here to help you get started with up to $10,000 in direct financial support.
- Short description: Find out more about the Key Apprenticeship Program (KAP).

The Key Apprenticeship Program (KAP) is part of the Australian Government's Future Made in Australia plan to build a strong and skilled workforce for tomorrow. KAP supports eligible apprentices working in some of Australia's most in-demand jobs, helping you train, earn and grow in a sustainable and future focused career.

What's in it for apprentices?

From 1 July 2025, if you start or restart an apprenticeship in an eligible clean energy or housing construction occupation, you may be eligible to receive up to $10,000 in direct financial support on top of your wage.

There are over 65 occupations listed as clean energy and/or housing construction on the Australian Apprenticeships Priority List to choose from.

Support for employers

Employers of KAP apprentices may also benefit from the Priority Hiring Incentive, receiving up to $5,000 in financial support from the Australian Government.

- Full-time apprentices: $2,000 at 6 months and $3,000 at 12 months (full-time)
- Part-time apprentices: $1,000 at 6 months and $1,500 at 12 months (part-time)

Ready to get started?

Whether you're an aspiring apprentice or an employer ready to grow your team, the Key Apprenticeship Program is designed to support you at every step.
